

Beyond the beach

PHOTOGRAPHER Eugene Tan has immersed himself in Australia's most famous beach for the past 11 years - capturing the beating heart of Bondi both from the air and underwater.

The Bondi gallery owner's first book, A Day at Bondi, brings Tan's best pictures of the Sydney beach snapped while on daily swims. "Bondi is a unique place... there's always something going on," he said.

"I've been documenting the changes and the moods of the beach.

"The crowds are pretty interesting also. Bondi is a mismatch of people... there are so many different factions on the beach."

Tan said he had been blogging about the daily happenings at Bondi for years, telling subscribers what was happening at the nation's most photographed beach and releasing pictures.

"I get up and shoot pictures of just about every sunrise," he said. A Day at Bondi is $150 from www.aquabumps.com/book

SUN SEEKERS: Images from Eugene Tan's photo book, A Day at Bondi, which focuses on life at the famous beach.

Shape the Park Lands with your voice.

The Adelaide City Council invites your feedback on the draft Adelaide Park Lands Landscape Master Plan. Your perspective will be invaluable in providing direction for the future management of the Park Lands landscape.

Your submissions must be made by 5.00pm on Wednesday, 15 December 2010. View the summary document or a full copy of the proposed Park Lands Landscape Master Plan at www.adelaidecitycouncil.com/consultation or at the Adelaide City Council Customer Centre.

For enquiries, please call 8203 7203.

Your submissions must include your name and residential address.

Complete the online submission at adelaidecitycouncil.com/consultation. Submissions can be entered via email or post.

EMAIL:

consultation@adelaidecitycouncil.com

POST:

Community Consultation
Park Lands Landscape Master Plan
GPO Box 2252, Adelaide, SA 5001